TELEGRAPHIC.

MAINE.

Boston, Sept. 20.—Senator Blaine, who is in the city, sent the following telegram to Hon. Marshall Jewell to-day:

Boston, Sept. 20.—To Hon. Marshall Jewell, chairman of the national republican committee: I left Maine on Tuesday last. Intelligence reaches me here to-day indicating that the telegraphic report of votes, as published by the associated press, is in some cases entirely untrue. I am sure that the official returns of the state, where they are open to the inspection of the public. These modifications are of such a character as to render a contest between Davis and Plaised extremely close, possibly requiring the official returns to determine which is elected. The official returns can not be counted or even opened until the meeting of legislature in January. The cry of fraud in the count, as put forth by Mr. Chairman Barlow, is sufficiently refuted by the fact that both parties in Maine have recourse to precisely the same authority for their figures. First, the telegram of the associated press, and second, the clerks' returns from the several towns, and the agents of the associated press at Portland. Mr. Stephen Berry, is implicitly trusted by the public, and is incapable of wilful misstatement or evasion. His experience in summing the election returns is as long as varied as any man in the country. Up to this point there is not a particle of dispute between parties in Maine touching the returns from a single town. The only possible opportunity for fraud in the election returns under our laws is in the French plantations of Aroostook, where the assessors sign returns which are entirely unacquainted. The democratic English-speaking agent, who makes out the returns, has abundant opportunity for misstatement. I do not assert that the returns from these plantations are fraudulent for I do not know it; but I do assert and I do know that frauds have been committed there in past years by the democratic agents. I repeat, that nowhere else in Maine is fraud practicable. The fraud of last year was not in the returns at all, but consisted wholly in Gov. Garcelon and his council rejecting returns that were honestly and regularly made. Mr. Chairman Barlow is also in palpable error when he assumes the election returns should be at Augusta the day after the election. He forgets that Maine is larger in territory than the other five New England states together, and that the southwesternmost town in Maine is nearer to any point in the state of Delaware. Next, indeed, the city of Baltimore than it is the French plantations, on the upper St. Johns, by any practicable route. In this statement I speak of actual distances. In point of time the comparison would be still more striking and significant, for a man can go from Augusta to Chicago as quickly as he can go from Augusta to Fort Kent. The tale of Barlow about the fugitives of Maine being counted out is mere rant. There is not a democratic or greenbacker in Maine who has the slightest fear of such a result. The late Gov. Clifford, of Massachusetts, used to boast that the party was the only one then in existence that would count itself out of power and surrender to its opponents in an adverse majority of one vote. Alluding to the case of Marcus Morton, as governor, the republicans of Maine, when beaten in 1878, could have retained power on two or three points in the count. Those who planned Garcelon's count, out of a year later expected the republicans to do it and suggested a fear of it, but there was no single member of the party that ever harbored such a thought. If Gen. Plaised shall have a single vote more than Gov. Davis, the executive chair of Maine for the next two years is well assured to him as though his majority were 10,000.

A GREENBACK CARD.

New York, Sept. 20.—George O. Jones, chairman of the state committee of the greenback labor party, publishes a card emphatically denying the consultation with Marshall Jewell imputed to him and three fellow-members of his party by certain newspaper correspondents. He says: "I can not understand how such unwarranted statements could be made unless their authors intend to utter malicious falsehoods for partisan purposes. The only information I have regarding matters in Maine was obtained through conversation with Gen. Weaver since his return from that state, in all of which he spoke of the greenbackers as being reliable members of our party, and as such expressed his sincere desire for their election, while he opposes now, as he has throughout the entire campaign, any action on our national ticket of permitting anything to be done calculated to interfere with the integrity of our party as a distinct national organization."

FIRE ON THE WATER.

New York, Sept. 21.—The anchor line steamer, Albatross, which sailed for London Saturday, has returned. When 250 miles east of Sandy Hook, the coal in both bunkers was discovered to be on fire, and in a short time after a terrible explosion occurred. Before the fire could be extinguished the greater part of the coal was consumed. The extent of the damage could not be ascertained and the vessel returned for examination.

YELLOW FEVER RECORD.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 20.—The following report from Rio de Janeiro was received by the national board of health: For the week ending August 14th there was 1 death from yellow fever and 5 from pernicious fever; total deaths from all causes 157. For the week ending August 21st there was 1 death from yellow fever and 1 from pernicious fever; total deaths from all causes 157. A report was also received from Havana showing that during the week ending September 4th there were 30 deaths from yellow fever, 5 from smallpox, 5 from typhoid fever and 160 from all causes. For the week ending September 10th there were 10 deaths from yellow fever. The prevailing diseases at that time were yellow fever and diarrhoea and dysentery.

BANKRUPT MEMPHIS AND HER BONDHOLDERS.

New York, Sept. 20.—Several of the largest Memphis city bondholders met in the office of E. H. Cassett, 39 Pine street, to-day, to confer with a committee appointed by the legislature of Tennessee, to examine into the condition of Memphis, as to its liabilities and assets, consult with the bondholders and report to the next legislature. Messrs. T. B. Turley and R. B. Snowden being the only members of the commission present, the meeting was adjourned until Wednesday at 12:30. Among the gentlemen present were Dr. D. T. Porter, chairman of the taxing district of Tennessee, John Overton, jr., John M. Lea and F. S. Davis, president of the first national bank of Memphis. Nothing was done at the meeting beyond an informal discussion of the bankrupt city.

THE LAWLESS DISTILLERS.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 20.—Collector Rives having reported to Commissioner Raum that Deputy Collector Latham and posse, a few days ago, after destroying a distillery near Floyd Court House, Va., was fired upon by men concealed in the woods and asked for carbines to carry out against illicit distillers in that section. General Raum has decided to send a sufficient number of arms and gives the collector authority to employ as many men as he may deem necessary. Collector Raum also reports that these distillers are lawless and a determined class, but he believes that with a well armed force they can be broken up.

HOMICIDE IN COCKE.

J. J. Bryant Knocked in the Head and Killed by David Stokely.

A Drunken Specie, Returning from Speaking at Newport, the Cause.

We are indebted to J. W. Pickle, Esq., of Newport, Cocke county, who is attending the supreme and federal courts, for the following particulars, conveyed to him by private letter, of a sad occurrence in Cocke county Saturday night, 18th inst., resulting in the death of J. J. Bryant. The facts are detailed as follows:

On Saturday, Maj. W. J. Sykes delivered a speech in Newport. Late Saturday evening J. J. Bryant, Russell Baker and David Stokely started for home, all traveling the same road. But on the way, perhaps at Pleasant Morris' grocery, Bryant and Baker stopped and got some whisky, and Stokely went on home. About the time they were opposite Stokely's house, Baker commenced cursing Stokely, who was at the time in his own yard. Stokely said something back to him, and the quarrel continued till Baker got down off his horse, over the fence and started through a small lot that lay between the road and house. While Baker was advancing across the lot, Stokely shot him to stop or he would shoot him, and stepped into the house, got his rifle, came back and ordered Baker to stop. He probably raised his gun, but did not present it. About that time Baker stopped, told Stokely he wanted to talk to him. Bryant, being on his horse, about this time, told Baker to come out, but Baker refused to go. Bryant rode back to the gate and said something to Stokely. Stokely told him that he had herebefore been engaged in raising a row with him (Stokely). Bryant denied it and Stokely reiterated the charge. Bryant then gave Stokely the lead and Stokely struck Bryant across the back of his head with his gun barrel, while he (Bryant) was yet on his horse. After the lick the gun was taken away from Stokely, and by some means the two got together, when Stokely kicked Bryant in the stomach after which it appears they all sat down and talked over the matter an hour or so. After this Bryant got on, or was put on his horse, and went home with Baker, a distance of about 2½ miles, Baker being very drunk and Bryant drinking. Bryant had the blood washed from his head and was laid down on a bed. Soon after he got very sick, and was not properly at himself until he died about sun rise Sunday morning.

DISASTROUS FIRE.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Sept. 21.—A special from Greenbay says a disastrous fire there yesterday afternoon destroyed sixty dwelling houses, thirty barns and the Presbyterian church. The residences burned were among the best in the city. The fire departments of Oconto and De Pere responded to the call for aid. The fire broke out in a store and mill, and the flames were only stopped when they had reached the river. The loss is estimated at $150,000 to $157,000. Insurance light.

PASSENGER AND TICKET AGENTS.

New York, Sept. 21.—The national association of general passenger and ticket agents of the United States and Canada commenced its semi-annual session in this city to-day. The attendance was large, a majority of the railroads of the United States and Canada being represented. The association will meet every day through the week.

MAINE GREENBACKERS.

Portland, Me., Sept. 21.—The greenback state committee met here this morning and elected S. A. Berry chairman. The convention to nominate electors met this afternoon, with 465 delegates present. Mr. Berry called the convention to order and Chas. A. White was elected chairman. He denounced Garfield and urged a dividing ticket.

MINOR DISPATCHES.

New York, Sept. 20.—Judge James P. Sinton, of the New York marine court, who has been ill since Friday, died to-day of heart disease.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Sept. 20.—A part of the crew of a vessel with the name "Camden" on it, and the quarter board of another vessel with the name "Unea," have been picked up on the beach near St. John's bar.

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 20.—David S. Triber, member of the firm of Bierstock, Triber & Co., commission merchants, has been arrested on the charge of unlawfully disposing of fifty thousand pounds of wool, for which the Valley national bank held warehouse receipts. The wool was valued at $10,000, but the bank probably does not lose more than $4,000. The case is quite complicated, and everybody connected with it is very reticent. Triber was admitted to bail in $3,000.

NORFOLK, Va., Sept. 21.—Thomas H. Webb, agent at this place for the Old Dominion steamship company, died to-day.

CHICAGO, Ill., Sept. 20.—Mrs. Hazzard, of Monticello, Ill., gave birth to five babies on Saturday. They are all alive.

DANVILLE, Va., Sept. 21.—The republican convention of the first congressional district met to-day and declined to make any nomination for congress. A majority of the convention are understood to be favorable to the election of a republican candidate for congress.

NIAGARA FALLS, Sept. 21.—The Republican congressional convention of the 31st district to-day re-nominated Richard C. Crowley for Congress by acclamation.

FOREIGN.

MOVING OUT.

LONDON, Sept. 21.—A Gravosa dispatch reports that the British captain, sent to Montenegro and Scutari, has arrived at Scutari, delivered his dispatches and summoned the consular body to remove their families to a place of safety.

DEMOCRATIC ELECTIONSHIP.

A. B. Martin Accepts the Position Vacated by Col. Fleming. Special to the Chronicle.

NASHVILLE, Sept. 21.—Andrew B. Martin, of Lebanon, to-day accepted the position of democratic elector for the state at large, vice Col. Jno. M. Fleming, resigned.

JUDGE HOOK AT ATHENS.

Judge Hook spoke two and one-half hours here yesterday to about two hundred persons. His audience was composed of representative republicans from almost every civil district in McMinn county. Not many democrats were present to hear him, and those who did attend were not pleased.

I will not attempt any report of his speech, but will only say that it was an able and most scathing statement and review of the history and inconsistencies of the democratic party for the last twenty years. Republicans were highly pleased with his effort, and at the close thereof gave him a hearty vote of thanks.

Immediately after the close of his speech a Garfield and Arthur club was organized with one hundred and ten names enrolled. The prominent officers of the club are: President, F. B. McElwee; vice-president, M. L. Phillips; secretary, H. W. Matthews; assistant secretary, J. S. Mathews; treasurer, J. A. Ellis; executive committee, C. C. Wester, W. H. Braut, J. H. Hurnsby, D. C. Duggan, Henry Gubery, Roger Sherman and George Henderson. Other Garfield clubs have already been organized in our county, and I hear of others that soon will be.

While some neighborhoods in our county are badly infected with the repudiation virus, this the 7th, or Athens district, only has two Wilsonites so far as I know, or have heard. This is most likely due to the influence of the Athens Post, which has always and uniformly, honestly and conscientiously opposed repudiation in any and every shape and guise. The public morals of our county have been devalued by speeches of Gov. Marks, John Savage and R. M. Edwards, mainly.

Repudiation seems to be a sort of mania, and when it breaks out in a neighborhood, the first symptom or manifestation of the disease is blindness and deafness. The patient is almost absolutely unapproachable, and is totally deaf to any and all appeals to reason, justice, common sense and common honesty. The democratic party in McMinn county is split wide open, and I regret to report a small number of republicans are said to be training with the repudiation wing of that party. This shows conclusively that when stricken with the malady they at once become delirious, if not positively insane, politically.

Athens, Sept. 16. J. M. H.

Praise God from Whom all Blessings Flow.

On Tuesday, the day after the Maine election, our democratic friends, who were already considerably elated, by the surface indications from that State, were regaled with the following voluminous telegram from Maj. Tom O'Connor, who was in New York:

"The latest returns from Maine give us four or five congressmen, a majority of the Legislature on joint ballot and the Governor by 3,000 to 5,000 majority."

This startling announcement, which was evidently manufactured and sent out for a purpose, fairly set them beside themselves with delight. One of the leading lights of the party, moved from the innermost depths of his soul, responded immediately with the following telegram to Maj. O'Connor:

"Praise God from whom all blessings flow."

As has become characteristic with the party, they had a day or two of this premature rejoicing which almost equalled their actions upon the receipt of the surface indications in 1876, when they thought they had their man Tilden. But alas! something still "later" was received, in due time, which overturned their tables and dampened their ardor wonderfully, and now a democrat is not half so anxious to hear the news from Maine as a week ago.

A Specimen of Democratic Attempted Fraud.

DANBRIDGE, TENN., Sept. 20, 1880. MR. EDITOR:—I deem it nothing more than justice upon my part to inform the voters of the first congressional district of the sneaking and fraudulent manner in which the democrats are trying to gain votes for Bob Taylor. Their intention is to run a so-called republican paper at Newport, advocating and publishing the entire republican ticket, save the name of Major A. H. Pettibone, and in its stead the name of Bob Taylor, the man who promised the mountain boys two years since that he would repeal the revenue law, but marched straight to Washington and cast every vote in behalf of democracy.

Now, to prove to every rational man that the so-called republican paper appearing from Newport, is a democratic organ of the basest kind, I only have to say that I sold my material and press (not the Reporter), to a democratic editor, who had for two weeks prior to the purchase, been communicating with a democratic clique upon the management of said organ. Now, this is a fair specimen of democratic government, such as they are guilty of, and will ever be guilty of it elected to office. Friends of the first district beware of Bob Taylor, for he who deceives you once will again.

Yours in faith,

JOS. L. BIBLE.

Dr. Harker's FEVER & AGUE SPECIFIC

STANDS TO-DAY WITHOUT A RIVAL IN THE WORLD. For the cure of all kinds of Ague and Chills it has no equal; having stood the test of universal use for thirty years in the most malarial districts it never fails to cure, not merely removing for a time the symptoms, but eradicating the cause of the disease, thereby making a permanent cure.

Manufactured by The Dr. Harker Medicine Co., No. 213 N. Main Street, St. Louis.

Rev. F. HACKMEYER, Supt. German Protestant Orphan's Home, St. Charles Rock Road, St. Louis Co., writing April 30th, 1877, says: "Dr. Harker's Fever and Ague Specific is a positive cure for Chills and Fever; has never failed with us."

Mr. JNO. C. WELBORN of Keyport, Ill., says: "I cured a little girl of Ague of three years' standing, with Dr. Harker's Fever and Ague Specific, after the best physicians failed to benefit her."

Dr. YOUNGBLOOM of Little Rock, Mo., says: "I have used Dr. Harker's Fever and Ague Specific in my practice, and can heartily recommend it to the public."
